American Jets Pulverize Cong In Triangle Area

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American jet bombers pulverized the "iron triangle" with repeated strikes today while on the ground armor-led U.S. troops uncovered more Viet Cong base camps and large caches of enemy rice.

As the war's biggest ground sweep carried through its fifth day, U.S. headquarters reported the count of Communist dead rose to nearly 200 with 40 prisoners taken in the drive to clear the jungles 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon.

In the massive sweep of the iron triangle called Operation Cedar Falls, U.S. F100 Super Sabre jet pilots reported strafing runs against Viet Cong snipers concealed in trees.

Other Air Force jets mounted 59 bombing runs on the triangle during the day to raise the total air strikes in the operation to 488.

Roundtown

DEAR ROUNDTOWN: You invited questions and I have one to submit. Would you please tell me why the Federal Government and the State of Ohio are spending $15,000 for plantings in front of three businesses just east of Williamsport? If you have driven along Route 22 you will note these plantings. I suppose they are to keep Ohio beautiful. But for that amount of money there seems to be very few bushes for $15,000.

Thank you. The planting project bordering Route 22 in front of Deercreek Auto Parts, The Dunlap Co. and the David Davies Stock Yard is part of a national highway beautification project initiated by President Johnson's wife.

According to Division No. 6, Ohio Department of Highways, the Williamsport site was one of several selected in a survey conducted last year. Other proposed projects within Division 6 are in Madison, Delaware, Union and Morrow Counties.

The survey was conducted by the Ohio Highway Department which forwarded recommendations to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Contracts for the projects were let and financed by the federal government. The Ohio Highway Department supervised and inspected the Williamsport area planting at a cost of $4,000 — which is included in the $15,000 total expenditure.

A similar project is now under way south of Circleville in the vicinity of another auto parts yard.

A few bushes for $15,000? We assume even the government is getting a taste of inflated prices.

Legitimate written inquiries to "Dear Roundtown" are welcomed. The Herald will make every effort to reply by seeking answers from departments or officials concerned. The signatures of persons submitting questions are not required.

1967 May End Organized' War

EDITOR'S NOTE — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is about to return to his post in Saigon. In this exclusive interview, he gives his views on the outlook for 1967, the impact of the bombing of North Vietnamese targets, the results of the American military action in terms of world peace.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge predicted today a downturn in the percentage of American casualties in Vietnam this year. "The war would be pretty nearly over," Lodge added, once success is achieved in wiping out the threat from hardcore terrorists to Vietnamese villagers. But he gave no date on when he thought this slower, pacification task might be completed.

Lodge spoke in an interview with The Associated Press prior to his departure for Saigon Saturday after a month in the United States on home leave and consultation.

He met Wednesday with President Johnson. Afterward, he told reporters U.S. forces may win military victory over organized Red troops this year but this would not automatically end the war.

As Lodge outlined it in his interview, there are actually four kinds of war being fought in South Vietnam — the conventional military operation against large units, weeding out terrorists, development of a constitutional political system which is under way, and the economic battle in which inflation has been successfully "staved off" at this point.

U.S. troops have been searching out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army units. The American forces now total around 400,000 and they have been suffering about 100 killed a week.

"I believe the purely military part of the war — which is what the Americans are engaged in — will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said.

"The weeding out of the terrorists, however, takes longer," he added. "It is almost wholly a job for the Vietnamese."

"Until this is done and until local political institutions are constructed under which a police program and an economic and social program can be conducted, Vietnam cannot stand by itself and will continue to require help."

Hope Grows For Easier Credit Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money remains tight in many parts of the nation but signs of easier credit are mounting.

The first chink in the 6 per cent prime interest rate that banks charge their favored customers for loans came Wednesday when a relatively small Minnesota institution reduced its rate from 6 per cent to 5.75 per cent.

Isolated action by the National City Bank of Minneapolis surprised many bankers but it was hailed by the Treasury Department.

"The Treasury is heartened and pleased at this early movement in the direction of lower interest rates that the President advocated in the State of the Union message," the department said in response to an inquiry.

President Johnson, in proposing a 6 per cent surcharge on income and corporation taxes Tuesday night in his message to Congress, said it was partly designed to keep the economy growing without new inflationary strain and to move toward easier credit and lower interest rates.

The Minneapolis bank's action, although unique, was not the only sign of an easing Wednesday.

First National City Bank, New York's largest, announced a cut in the interest rate it will pay on some long-term certificates of deposit.

The rate since last spring has been 5.5 per cent on certificates maturing in 30 days or more. First National City cut the rate on maturities of nine months and longer to 5 per cent.

Banks raised their interest rates on deposits last year in an attempt to attract new savings. In an unrelated action, the Provident Savings Bank in Baltimore announced a 10 per cent cut in the down payment required on a new home in order to obtain a mortgage, and a 5 per cent cut on the down payment for an older home.

Provident also said it is encouraging home buyers to apply for loans. Lack of money last year forced many institutions to reject loan applications.

Action by Provident followed within hours an announcement by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board that it is making $1 billion available to mutual savings banks, and savings and loan associations for residential mortgages.

Cleveland's 180 Schools To Stay Open

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland School Board and custodians union agreed on wages and other issues shortly after midnight, averting a threatened strike that would have closed 180 public schools today.

The custodians who also number 180, are not janitors. They operate boilers and heating units, and if they had struck, school buildings would have been without heat.

They are members of Local 777, International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, AFL-CIO. Originally, they had set a strike deadline of midnight Tuesday, but postponed the walkout for 24 hours while talks continued.

The school board still faces a strike threat over wages from another AFL-CIO group, the 3,000 members of the Cleveland Teachers Union.

The teachers union will meet Monday night to take a strike vote. Their strike deadline is next Thursday.

The chief issue behind the custodians' threatened strike was pay, and union negotiators accepted an agreement that will provide salaries ranging from a minimum of about $7,790 to a maximum of $10,000.

The settlement also provides for establishment of grievance procedures, regular meetings between union officials and school administrators, and one additional week's vacation.

School Supt. Paul W. Briggs announced the settlement which does not have to be voted on by the union membership.

47 GE Settlements Made Out of Court

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. announced Wednesday an out-of-court settlement of 47 suits seeking $25 million damages in connection with accidents plaintiffs tied to the design of Corvair automobiles in 1960-63.

The settlement was reached with David M. Harney, a Los Angeles attorney handling the suits for the 92 plaintiffs.

No payment was made in one-third of the cases, GM said. A total of about $350,000 will be paid on the other cases.

Traffic Deaths Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Preliminary reports by state highway safety officials indicate that traffic fatalities in Ohio last year showed a 10 per cent increase over 1965.

U.S., Europe Try To Solve Grain Problem

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and the European Common Market are moving toward a wide agreement on the sharing of man's basic food — grain.

Some progress may be made today at a meeting of cabinet ministers from the six Common Market countries: France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The main battle will be fought in Geneva.

If an accord is reached, it will cover the whole non-Communist world and form an essential part of the Kennedy Round agreements on trade. It will cover not only the grains that humans eat, such as wheat and rye, but the feed grains needed for raising poultry, beef, pigs and other meat animals. The deadline for the Kennedy Round is June 30.

The idea of the agreement is to stabilize prices, production and markets. The United States also would like to make it a system for supplying aid to underdeveloped countries, especially India.

India's needs have absorbed a large proportion of the U.S. grain surplus, which has about disappeared. The United States wants other affluent countries to share the burden.

The Common Market opposes putting aid arrangements in the grain agreement. The agreement, it says, should be about trade — not aid. It wants aid to be considered a different matter and handled elsewhere.

American farmers have also been worried about losing their excellent market for grain, especially feed grain, in Western Europe. The United States now sells the Common Market more than 10 million tons of feed grain a year, a large and increasingly important item in the effort to balance U.S. international payments and stop the outflow of gold.

The United States also sells wheat to Europe, but with rising prosperity West Europeans no longer eat as much bread and they have an increasing appetite for beef — much of it fed on American corn.

The American fear is that high prices guaranteed to farmers in the Common Market will encourage France to produce more. At the same time, high duties levied by the Common Market would keep American sales down.

A system has been devised to overcome this fear. Each area in the agreement would accept a "self-sufficiency rate."

The Common Market would be treated as a single area. The rate would be roughly equal to the percentage of its own requirements that the area has been producing in recent years, the rest being imported.

If an area should exceed its self-sufficiency rate, thus cutting down its imports, it would have to take remedial action.

Romanians Worry About Decline In Birth Rate

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Communist Romania has introduced additional income taxes for childless couples and all those over 25 who are unmarried, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Bucharest.

The agency said the decree of the state council went into force Jan. 1. It follows another in October which made divorce difficult to obtain and which banned abortions.

Families with more than three children have special allowances.

All these measures followed an alarming decrease in births in Romania, the agency said.

According to statistics, in the past 10 years births decreased from 14 to 6 per 1,000.

Mao's Enemies Get Ultimatum

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung has delivered an ultimatum to his enemies, called on the army to help crush them and obtained pledges of loyalty from military units throughout China, organs under his control reported today.

There was no indication Mao's opponents were buckling under the pressure. Peking Radio said that Mao has ordered complete reorganization of the "cultural revolutionary committee" of the armed forces, a possible indication of military opposition to Mao despite the claimed pledges of support.

The new turn in the Chinese Communist party chairman's seething struggle with the party faction headed by President Liu Shao-chi coincided with an admission that there has been fighting in Shanghai. Mao, 73, ordered the city quarantined and all travel in and out limited.

The appeal to the army — and the reported swift response — also suggested that the 2.5-million-man armed forces may be wavering in their loyalty to Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao, his No. 1 ally and nominally in control of the army.

The army's declaration of loyalty followed an editorial in the Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag — both controlled by Mao — which warned Liu's faction "to make a final reconsideration immediately and surrender to the revolutionary people."

On the heels of this ultimatum — which used the word "final" for the first time — four important official bodies dominated by Mao issued a directive calling on the army, the party, the government and the people throughout the nation "to take concerted action and to beat back the new counterattack of the bourgeois reactionary line."

Until now, the army has been carrying out its own purge as part of the so-called "great proletarian cultural revolution." Its injection into the civilian purge was considered an apparent indication that Mao's position has been seriously weakened.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Gen. Earle C. Wheeler, the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today that U.S. strategy in Vietnam for 1967 is a dynamic one of "keeping the pressure on the enemy and maintaining the initiative we seized a year ago."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Three persons have been killed in violence apparently stemming from an internal dispute in the Black Muslim sect.

Police said Andrew Hoffman, 33, and his wife, Christine, 28, were shot Wednesday by two unidentified pistol-carrying young men as they returned to their home after buying groceries.

The body of Roy Tyson, 27, was found earlier Wednesday in an abandoned canal near the Mississippi River in the Illinois section of the metropolitan area. He had been beaten to death with a brick, police said.

War Surtax Not Viewed Approvingly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is clearing the track for early consideration of President Johnson's proposals for Social Security benefit increases.

But his request for a 6 per cent Vietnam war income tax surcharge has been switched to a siding, to sit perhaps until April — or, as some members frankly hoped, indefinitely.

The House Ways and Means Committee is expected to announce next week that hearings will begin in early February on the proposed 20 per cent average increase in Social Security benefits.

Senate Gets Lausche Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to regulate future strip and surface mining of coal and for the reclamation of lands and waters damaged by such mining was proposed today by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

The principal objectives of the bill, co-sponsored by Sens. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., are to:

1. Establish federal laws and regulations requiring the industry to adequately reclaim lands to be mined in the future.

2. Provide for federal assistance in reclaiming the approximately 3.6 million acres which have been ravaged by strip mining.

Lausche said there is no doubt that existing laws in some states will be well within any federal minimum standards. The bill provides, as a condition precedent to financial assistance from the federal government, that strong state laws must be in effect.

Of an estimated 200,000 acres in Ohio that have been "churned up by monster machines," Lausche said, more than 33,500 acres remain unreclaimed; 22,000 acres have been partially reclaimed; and of the 123,000 acres listed as reclaimed, many would not meet general land and water conservation standards.

With wise management policies, many of the mined areas in affected states could have been the richest part of America today," Lausche said.

"Instead, they have become synonymous with poverty of land and people. This did not occur by accident; it is the result of many years of remorseless exploitation."

LBJ Painting Goes on View

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Artist Peter Hurd has lost interest in "a second edition" of his embattled presidential portrait and says he probably will "give it up."

The New Mexico artist referred here Wednesday to complaints by President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson over the original painting and added:

"I simply don't know how to carry out their suggestions."

Hurd, 62, said he is willing to sell the painting to anyone who will pay his regular $12,000 fee "plus the expenses I had running back and forth to Camp David and the ranch in Texas."

The portrait will have its first public showing tonight at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. Hurd and his LBJ portrait, showing the President nearly bigger than life with the Capitol dome brilliantly lighted in the background, became embroiled in nationwide publicity after the

LBj Promises On Crime War Win Plaudits

Officials Feel Problem Needs Federal Action

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's promise of big-scale federal aid for states and cities in the fight against crime won plaudits from coast to coast today.

Many municipal officials said transfusions from the Treasury are the only answer to the rising cost of law enforcement.

Others declared that crime is a national problem and that Congress has an obligation to provide funds to help keep it in check.

A typical comment came from Police Commissioner Ray Girardin of Detroit, who said: "We have reached the point where the cities cannot adequately finance all police services that cities should have. I hope Congress will implement the program by making funds available."

"It's an uphill fight without it, but with this help I feel Detroit and other cities can get on top of the crime situation."

O. W. Wilson, superintendent of Chicago police, said the President's program deserves "the support of all citizens."

The President, in his State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night, proposed a "safe streets and crime control act" which would provide federal assistance in three categories:

1. 90 percent of the cost of developing state and local anti-crime plans.

2. 60 percent of the cost of training police tactical units and introducing up-to-date equipment and techniques.

3. 50 percent of the cost of crime laboratories and police academies.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York described the President's proposal as "timely."

He added: "New York City is already developing fast-moving tactical units, an instant communications system and a modern police academy. We are very hopeful that the President's message presages significantly broader federal support for our vital law enforcement programs."

Confidence Men Said Working Area

Officials of South Central Power Co. today issued a warning to all member - consumers to beware of confidence men operating within its service area.

S. J. Fischer, director of public relations for the power company, said "There have been at least three attempts to fleece our members out of money by misrepresentation . . . one west of Amanda, one south of Revenge and another in the Oakland area. Two of the attempts were successful. The third failed because the member asked the man to wait while she called the South Central office to check his credentials. When she did this, he fled."

Fischer noted that the confidence men have represented themselves variously as employees of South Central Power, sent to check the wiring in the dwelling, or as septic tank cleaners. In each instance they have demanded payment for their work on the spot.

Fischer asked member - consumers to be especially watchful and to immediately report any suspicious - appearing person to South Central Power or the nearest law officer. Under ordinary circumstances, he said no South Central employee is authorized to ask for money on - the - spot from consumers.

There are exceptions to this rule, such as in the event of restoration of service after a turn-off, but they are so few that any request for money should be regarded with suspicion.

War Surtax

Johnson did not mention financing of his proposal. Speculation was that it would require imposing a pay roll tax on the first $7,800 earned income, instead of the present $6,600.

In connection with the Social Security changes, the Ways and Means Committee also will consider limitations on state "medical" programs. These medical help activities, for which federal help was authorized several years ago, have in some cases been projected at levels well above what Congress contemplated.

An April start on hearings on the tax proposal means that Congress, if it does approve it, will have to keep to a tight schedule to meet the administration request for a July 1 effective date.

On the other hand, the extra time would keep alive the chance that some now unforeseen development might ease the budgetary strain. It also would enable members to study Johnson's precise spending plans, with the possibility of reductions.

LBJ Promises On Crime War Win Plaudits

Officials Feel Problem Needs Federal Action

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's promise of big-scale federal aid for states and cities in the fight against crime won plaudits from coast to coast today.

Many municipal officials said transfusions from the Treasury are the only answer to the rising cost of law enforcement.

Others declared that crime is a national problem and that Congress has an obligation to provide funds to help keep it in check.

A typical comment came from Police Commissioner Ray Girardin of Detroit, who said: "We have reached the point where the cities cannot adequately finance all police services that cities should have. I hope Congress will implement the program by making funds available."

"It's an uphill fight without it, but with this help I feel Detroit and other cities can get on top of the crime situation."

O. W. Wilson, superintendent of Chicago police, said the President's program deserves "the support of all citizens."

The President, in his State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night, proposed a "safe streets and crime control act" which would provide federal assistance in three categories:

1. 90 percent of the cost of developing state and local anti-crime plans.
2. 60 percent of the cost of training police tactical units and introducing up-to-date equipment and techniques.
3. 50 percent of the cost of crime laboratories and police academies.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York described the President's proposal as "timely."

He added: "New York City is already developing fast-moving tactical units, an instant communications system and a modern police academy. We are very hopeful that the President's message presages significantly broader federal support for our vital law enforcement programs."

Confidence Men Said Working Area

Officials of South Central Power Co. today issued a warning to all member - consumers to beware of confidence men operating within its service area.

S. J. Fischer, director of public relations for the power company, said "There have been at least three attempts to fleece our members out of money by misrepresentation. . . one west of Amanda, one south of Revenge and another in the Oakland area. Two of the attempts were successful. The third failed because the member asked the man to wait while she called the South Central office to check his credentials. When she did this, he fled."

Fischer noted that the confidence men have represented themselves variously as employees of South Central Power, sent to check the wiring in the dwelling, or as septic tank cleaners. In each instance they have demanded payment for their work on the spot.

Fischer asked member - consumers to be especially watchful and to immediately report any suspicious - appearing person to South Central Power or the nearest law officer. Under ordinary circumstances, he said, no South Central employee is authorized to ask for money on - the - spot from consumers. There are exceptions to this rule, such as in the event of restoration of service after a turn-off, but they are so few that any request for money should be regarded with suspicion.

How To Find Proposed Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's easy to calculate how President Johnson's proposed 6 per cent surtax would affect you: Figure your taxes, then add 6 per cent.

If your tax as now computed totals $500, the surtax would add $30 for a full year. If your tax is $1,000, you would add $60; if $2,000, the surtax would be $120 a year.

For corporations the rule would be the same.

There would be exemptions for lower-income families. A family of four with an income below $5,000 a year would be exempt, as would a single person with an income below $1,909 a year.

Johnson indicated in his State of the Union message that the surtax, if approved by Congress, would take effect July 1, when fiscal 1968 begins.

Thus it would be in force for only the last six months of calendar 1967. The effect over the full year would be to increase your tax liability, as shown in your tax return a year from now, by 3 per cent.

Afflicted Man Has Received 700 Pints of Blood to Date

DE QUINCY, La. (AP) — Marvin Wayne (Bud) Bryant makes medical history every day he lives.

In his 21 years of life, he has received more than 700 pints of blood. He needs it to live.

Bud suffers from Cooley's anemia — a disease in which the red blood cell production is severely curtailed. Victims rarely reach puberty. A brother and a sister of Bud's died of the disease at the age of 4 months.

He has one brother and three sisters who do not have the illness.

The disease was discovered when Bud was only 7 months old.

"Since that time my doctor has provided me with every hospital and medical need," Bud said.

Bud works at the hospital laboratory and assists in office routine.

Bud receives blood from inmates at the Louisiana Correctional and Industrial School, a penal institution near De Quincy.

They have more or less adopted Bud, and to date he has received 370 pints of blood from them.

Prior to the opening of this school, Bud got blood from donors who were found with the aid of civic organizations in the area.

His father donated the first 125 pints of blood but his health began to fail and he was forced to stop.

Bud goes to night school to continue his studies. His formal education ended in the 9th grade when he figured it was useless.

He hopes eventually to become a lab technician.

He has been examined by specialists from around the nation. Bud remembers once that 18 doctors examined him in a day. He prefers to stick with his own doctor.

Bud accepts it all with a philosophical outlook.

"It could be worse," he says.

Fidel Not Dr. Livingston

By John Chamberlain

The Circleville Herald, Thur. Jan. 12, 1967
Circleville, Ohio

A once-common by-line reappeared in the New York Times the other day. It was that of Herbert L. Matthews who might be termed the North American discoverer of Cuba's Fidel Castro, and it was prominently displayed over an editorial page column on "Cuba: Eight Years of Revolution". In a way, the signed column marked Mr. Matthews' return from Coventry, for, ever since it turned out that his hero Castro was a dedicated Communist and not just a romantic Caribbean revolutionary, the Times had limited the Matthews by-line to articles about such harmless topics as the refusal of respectable families in the English shires to accept the leadership of swingers from London.

So help me, Matthews begins his return-from-Coventry effort with a statement that "the Cuban revolution begins its ninth year today as a strong, completely Communist, personalized and struggling state." Thus, eight years later, Herbert Matthews recognizes a truth about Fidel Castro that was apparent to journalist Alice Leone Moats (who had access to police records in Mexico) back in 1957, which was two years before Matthews was saying of the Cuban Revolution that "this is not a Communist revolution in any sense of the word, and there are no Communists in positions of control." Miss Moats was the first, so far as I know, to tab Fidel as a Communist, although George Sokolsky and J. B. Matthews both suspected as much from the behavior of Castro at the so-called Bogotazo demonstration in Colombia against

General George Marshall in 1948. I don't want to jump on Herbert Matthews, for he belatedly comes under the dispensation offered in the Gospel According to St. Luke, which says "... likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance." It is true that Mr. Matthews' repentance is tacit, for in recognizing that Cuba is Communist today he does not refer to his 1959 and 1960 apologies for Castro as head of a "youthful" government "sowing wild oats." But let us not quibble over a technicality; the fact remains that Matthews has at last bowed to the verdict of history.

My reason for commenting on Mr. Matthews' final capitulation to fact is rooted in a perhaps silly personal commitment to the idea of justice in rewarding journalistic acumen. It so happens that even before Matthews was writing in 1959 from Havana that there were "no Communists in positions of control" in Cuba, the New York Times' regular Cuban correspondent, Ruby Hart Phillips, was reporting in detail that "a Communist pattern in the development of the revolutionary program" could be discerned. "Many people with modest savings," said Ruby Phillips in the Times, "as well as the wealthy class have invested in land and property ... and they now see themselves stripped of their possessions. They are greatly disillusioned." Well, as I remarked the other day, you can find everything in the Times, but the trick is to know how to read the paper.

This is a very hard trick to master in the current "liberal" climate of opinion. Even after you have read a Mexican police blotter, as Alice Moats did in 1957, it is considered a bit on the Joe McCarthy side to pass along information that shows a Castro conniving with the Communist conspiratorial underground. On the other hand, the romantic flavor of a visit to a rebel (no matter what the rebel may portend) always comes through as something admirable. The reader's confusion results from the difficulty of separating romantic action from the sort of sober analysis provided by an Alice Moats or a Ruby Hart Phillips.

Herbert Matthews was, in a sense, the unlucky victim of his own journalistic daring. In 1957 he penetrated the wilderness of Cuba's Sierra Maestra, becoming the first U. S. correspondent to speak to Fidel Castro in his jungle hideout. Unfortunately, Matthews had the defects of his very unusual qualities as a reporter. A strong romantic, he let his romantic exploit go to his head. Castro had to be a hero with him in order to justify the bit of Colonel T. E. Lawrence derring-do that had led to the Sierra Maestra interview in the first place.

I happen to have gone to work for the New York Times on the very day in 1956 that it hired Herbert Matthews. I liked and admired him. But he should have struck to being a man of action, like the Stanley who found Dr. Livingston in the African jungle. In the age of ideologies, the Stanleys of journalism should not be permitted to make policy. They should be kept out of the editorial rooms and the Ruby Hart Phillipses should be brought in.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BRASH young teen-ager took a sudden shine to a girl in one of his classes, and on Friday at dinner with his folks, announced that he proposed to phone her and ask her to go to the movies with him that evening. "That's rather insulting," advised his mother. "You shouldn't ask a girl out at the last moment. A girl likes to be asked for a date a week ahead of time." "A week?" exclaimed the boy. "Well," relented the mother, "not later than Monday before your weekend date." "Monday?" scoffed the boy. "Monday was IMPOSSIBLE, mom. I didn't even KISS her 'til Wednesday!"

The late financier, Bernard Baruch, once became convinced that his subconscious mind was producing sensational ideas while he was sleeping, and set out to train himself to write them down on a pad he placed at his bedside. He awoke one morning in a pleasant glow, convinced that he had jotted down something interesting while he was in dreamland. He was right. Scrawled across the page were these three inspiring words: "Ride 'em, cowboy!"

Frank Rhoades was complaining about the size of a room assigned to him in a commercial hotel. "I got arrested for smoking a cigarette in bed," he reported, "but the case was dismissed. The lighted end was in the bathroom."

Fidel Not Dr. Livingston

By John Chamberlain

A once-common by-line reappeared in the New York Times the other day. It was that of Herbert L. Matthews who might be termed the North American discoverer of Cuba's Fidel Castro, and it was prominently displayed over an editorial page column on "Cuba: Eight Years of Revolution". In a way, the signed column marked Mr. Matthews' return from Coventry, for, ever since it turned out that his hero Castro was a dedicated Communist and not just a romantic Caribbean revolutionary, the Times had limited the Matthews by-line to articles about such harmless topics as the refusal of respectable families in the English shires to accept the leadership of swingers from London.

So help me, Matthews begins his return-from-Coventry effort with a statement that "the Cuban revolution begins its ninth year today as a strong, completely Communist, personalized and struggling state." Thus, eight years late, Herbert Matthews recognizes a truth about Fidel Castro that was apparent to journalist Alice Leane Moats (who had access to police records in Mexico) back in 1957, which was two years before Matthews was saying of the Cuban Revolution that "this is not a Communist revolution in any sense of the word, and there are no Communists in positions of control." Miss Moats was the first, so far as I know, to tab Fidel as a Communist, although George Sokolsky and J. B. Matthews both suspected as much from the behavior of Castro at the so-called Bogotazo demonstration in Colombia against

General George Marshall in 1948. I don't want to jump on Herbert Matthews, for he belatedly comes under the dispensation offered in the Gospel According to St. Luke, which says "... likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance." It is true that Mr. Matthews' repentance is tacit, for in recognizing that Cuba is Communist today he does not refer to his 1959 and 1960 apologies for Castro as head of a "youthful" government "sowing wild oats." But let us not quibble over a technicality; the fact remains that Matthews has at last bowed to the verdict of history.

My reason for commenting on Mr. Matthews' final capitulation to fact is rooted in a perhaps silly personal commitment to the idea of justice in rewarding journalistic acumen. It so happens that even before Matthews was writing in 1959 from Havana that there were "no Communists in positions of control" in Cuba, the New York Times' regular Cuban correspondent, Ruby Hart Phillips, was reporting in detail that "a Communist pattern in the development of the revolutionary program" could be discerned. "Many people with modest savings," said Ruby Phillips in the Times, "as well as the wealthy class have invested in land and property ... and they now see themselves stripped of their possessions. They are greatly disillusioned." Well, as I remarked the other day, you can find everything in the Times, but the trick is to know how to read the paper.

This is a very hard trick to master in the current "liberal" climate of opinion. Even after you have read a Mexican police blotter, as Alice Moats did in 1957, it is considered a bit on the Joe McCarthy side to pass along information that shows a Castro conniving with the Communist conspiratorial underground. On the other hand, the romantic flavor of a visit to a rebel (no matter what the rebel may portend) always comes through as something admirable. The reader's confusion results from the difficulty of separating romantic action from the sort of sober analysis provided by an Alice Moats or a Ruby Hart Phillips.

Herbert Matthews was, in a sense, the unlucky victim of his own journalistic daring. In 1957 he penetrated the wilderness of Cuba's Sierra Maestra, becoming the first U. S. correspondent to speak to Fidel Castro in his jungle hideout. Unfortunately, Matthews had the defects of his very unusual qualities as a reporter. A strong romantic, he let his romantic exploit go to his head. Castro had to be a hero with him in order to justify the bit of Colonel T. E. Lawrence derring-do that had led to the Sierra Maestra interview in the first place.

I happen to have gone to work for the New York Times on the very day in 1956 that I hired Herbert Matthews. I liked and admired him. But he should have struck to being a man of action, like the Stanley who found Dr. Livingston in the African jungle. In the age of ideologies, the Stanleys of journalism should not be permitted to make policy. They should be kept out of the editorial rooms and the Ruby Hart Phillipses should be brought in.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BRASH young teen-ager took a sudden shine to a girl in one of his classes, and on Friday at dinner with his folks, announced that he proposed to phone her and ask her to go to the movies with him that evening. "That's rather insulting," advised his mother. "You shouldn't ask a girl out at the last moment. A girl likes to be asked for a date a week ahead of time." "A week?" exclaimed the boy. "Well," relented the mother, "not later than Monday before your weekend date." "Monday?" scoffed the boy. "Monday was IMPOSSIBLE, mom. I didn't even KISS her 'til Wednesday!"

The late financier, Bernard Baruch, once became convinced that his subconscious mind was producing sensational ideas while he was sleeping, and set out to train himself to write them down on a pad he placed at his bedside. He awoke one morning in a pleasant glow, convinced that he had jotted down something interesting while he was in dreamland. He was right. Scrawled across the page were these three inspiring words: "Ride 'em, cowboy!"

Frank Rhoades was complaining about the size of a room assigned to him in a commercial hotel. "I got arrested for smoking a cigarette in bed," he reported, "but the case was dismissed. The lighted end was in the bathroom."

Shoemaker Again Proposing Yearly Legislature Sessions

Myrl H. Shoemaker, representative from the 21st legislative district to the 107th Ohio General Assembly, announced today that he again will introduce a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions when the legislature convenes this week.

This is the fourth time Rep. Shoemaker has offered the amendment. Rep. Fred B. Hadley of Williams will be a co-sponsor this year.

The amendment, if adopted by the legislature and thereafter approved by the electorate, would result in the legislature meeting annually rather than once in each two years as it does presently.

Rep. Shoemaker declared problems in state government are multi-complex and more urgent action than ever before is required to solve them. "Three years to make projections for state revenues and expenditures seems to me to be outdated, outmoded and unsatisfactory," he said.

"FOR THIS reason, the voice of the people should not remain too long out of contact with their respective government lawmakers. If we as citizens of this great state are to grow and to keep pace with other states around us, we must be willing and able to meet our many areas of responsibilities on a current basis," the legislator said.

Under existing constitutional provisions, Rep. Shoemaker pointed out, the powers given to call a special session of the legislature do not provide the answer to this pressing problem.

"Special sessions," he stated, "deal only with special problems and can be called only in the manner prescribed by the constitution."

"The forum of the legislature should be more available so that when needed, prompt action can be taken to meet the many challenges of state problems," Shoemaker added.

Social Security Change Proposed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a breakdown of changes in the Social Security law proposed to Congress Tuesday night by President Johnson.

Improved benefits would range from 15 to 59 per cent for the 23 million Americans receiving payments with an over-all average improvement of 20 per cent.

Minimum payments would rise from $44 to $70 monthly. Any person with 25 years coverage would receive a minimum benefit of $100 monthly.

Medical care benefits would be extended to 1.5 million permanently and totally disabled Americans under 65.

The effective date for the improved benefits would be July 1. No tax increase to pay for the improvements would take effect until Jan. 1, 1968, and would include not only a hike in tax rates but also an increase in the amount of income on which the tax is levied. Johnson gave no details on this, however.

Pickaway Grange

SALT CREEK
The Grange Centennial Year began for Salt Creek Valley Grange with the conferring of the first and second degrees on a new member, Doyle Miller.

With Wayne Luckhart serving as chairman and vocalist, the following members participated in the presentation: Orley Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Beougher, Mrs. Robert Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Timmins, Robert DeLong, Mrs. Grace Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Wolfe, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Wayne Cryder, Elaine Judy, Mrs. Carl Dean and Paul Dunkle.

For the benefit of junior members, Francis Fraumfelter, master, read the following statement from the new Guide for Masters "Keeping in mind that Grange is a family fraternity, children under 14 years of age, whose parents are patrons, may be admitted at grange meetings, when in the opinion of the master, the interest of the membership will be best served by so doing."

Paul Dunkle, county youth chairman, told of the coming activities planned for the centennial year. The current project calls for participating in the Drill Team Contest in March.

A contribution, approved by members, was sent to the March of Dims.

The concluding social period provided an opportunity for informal planning of the grange's 100th anniversary observance. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler and Donald Strous.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Jan. 12, the 12th day of 1967. There are 353 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date 1933, Hattie W. Caraway, Democrat of Jonesboro, Ark., became the first woman elected to the U.S. Senate.

On this date:

In 1737, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, John Hancock, was born.

In 1918, 30 vessels on the Great Lakes were taken over by the Shipping Board for the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson called the first meeting of the League of Nations for Jan. 16.

In 1945, the Nazis were fleeing in retreat from the shattered Belgian Bulge.

Ten years ago — Severe drought conditions continued to plague Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Kansas. Some two million acres of farm and ranch land were affected.

One year ago — President Johnson, in his State of the Union message to Congress, pledged to stay in Vietnam "until aggression has stopped." At the same time, however, Johnson promised to continue and to expand his Great Society program at home.

Local Man Fined $75 For Assault, Battery

A local resident was handed a $75 fine on assault and battery charges filed by his wife.

Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb suspended the fine against Jack Noel, Route 3, and placed him on probation for six months. A condition of the probation is that he is not to violate the section of the Ohio Revised Code under which he was charged.

Noel pleaded no contest to the charge filed by Jean Noel.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war in Vietnam, now one of the greatest guessing games in the 20th century, hangs like a fog over Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency and his future.

No one knows it better than Johnson. This seems clear from both the tone and the nature of the State of the Union message he delivered to Congress this week.

He took over the presidency like a fireball, setting Congress ablaze with his program and his gusto in his first two full White House years, 1964 and 1965.

In the beginning Vietnam still seemed a little remote. While the United States was helping the South fight off the Communist attacks from the North, its role there was less than all-out.

But always Vietnam was a kind of open wound. It began to fester as the resistance of the South weakened and the chances of a Communist takeover increased. Gradually Johnson put the United States fully into the war.

He has talked much about it, often with explanations which sounded noble and unselfish, like preserving the right of a people, such as the South Vietnamese, to preserve their independence and choose their own way of government.

But along with these fine phrases he has consistently given another explanation which was not unselfish: that the United States fears, if the Communists can swallow South Vietnam, in time they will swallow all Southeast Asia.

And that, the Johnson administration feels, as did the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations before it, is something this country can't sit idly by and permit since, in the long run, American interests would be endangered.

As Johnson put this country deeper into the fighting, criticism of him at home increased, along with the expense of fighting the war.

If the war continues indefinitely, his future may be dim, his chances of re-election ruined and his place in history spoiled.

An acute awareness of all this appeared to dominate his State of the Union message.

Although full of vitality, it was subdued, as if Johnson wished to avoid new antagonisms. For instance, there was nothing inflammatory about what he said on civil rights. And what he did say was vague.

It was the war which dominated the speech although he crowded mention of it into the tail-end of what he said. His call for a tax boost, to help pay for the war, affects most Americans and brought him some new criticism.

And, for a man who wishes as strongly as Johnson for presidential success, it must have been a bitter acknowledgment when he informed Congress and the country he didn't know how

School Employees Strike Averted

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A strike of custodian and cafeteria employees of the Hamilton School System, scheduled for today, appeared averted after the board of education said it would hold a bargaining election next Monday.

James A. Levedensky, representing State, County and Municipal Employees Union (AFL-CIO) said approximately 200 employees were affected. The workers had asked the board of education to recognize the union as their bargaining agent.

The board countered with the offer of a "free and binding" election. It was accepted.

A strike would have affected 26 city schools housing 12,000 pupils, Supt. Lester Dickey said.

America's third President, Thomas Jefferson, had a sure-fire cure for indigestion — a few miles' ride on a spirited horse.

By James Marlow

long the war would last.

Nevertheless, he said this country would see it through.

Yet, a talk made that same day by U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, showed how far apart the two basic views of the war are and how, as a result, the arguments for and against the war are a giant guessing game.

Thant disagreed with the Johnson position that South

Vietnam's freedom from communism is vital to American interests. In short, both sides are guessing, since neither can positively predict the future.

Johnson is basing his belief, and therefore the American position, on the past performance of communism. This is a grim view, but realistic. Those who share Thant's view are the optimists of the world, hoping for the best.

Shoemaker Again Proposing Yearly Legislature Sessions

Myrl H. Shoemaker, representative from the 21st legislative district to the 107th Ohio General Assembly, announced today that he again will introduce a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions when the legislature convenes this week.

This is the fourth time Rep. Shoemaker has offered the amendment. Rep. Fred B. Hadley of Williams will be a co-sponsor this year.

The amendment, if adopted by the legislature and thereafter approved by the electorate, would result in the legislature meeting annually rather than once in each two years as it does presently.

Rep. Shoemaker declared problems in state government are multi-complex and more urgent action than ever before is required to solve them. "Three years to make projections for state revenues and expenditures seems to me to be outdated, outmoded and unsatisfactory," he said.

"FOR THIS reason, the voice of the people should not remain too long out of contact with their respective government lawmakers. If we as citizens of this great state to grow and to keep pace with other states around us, we must be willing and able to meet our many areas of responsibilities on a current basis," the legislator said.

Under existing constitutional provisions, Rep. Shoemaker pointed out, the powers given to call a special session of the legislature do not provide the answer to this pressing problem.

"Special sessions," he stated, "deal only with special problems and can be called only in the manner prescribed by the constitution."

"The forum of the legislature should be more available so that when needed, prompt action can be taken to meet the many challenges of state problems," Shoemaker added.

Social Security Change Proposed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a breakdown of changes in the Social Security law proposed to Congress Tuesday night by President Johnson.

Improved benefits would range from 15 to 59 per cent for the 23 million Americans receiving payments with an over-all average improvement of 20 per cent.

Minimum payments would rise from $44 to $70 monthly.

Any person with 25 years coverage would receive a minimum benefit of $100 monthly.

Medical care benefits would be extended to 1.5 million permanently and totally disabled Americans under 65.

The effective date for the improved benefits would be July 1. No tax increase to pay for the improvements would take effect until Jan. 1, 1968, and would include not only a hike in tax rates but also an increase in the amount of income on which the tax is levied. Johnson gave no details on this, however.

Paul Dunkle, county youth chairman, told of the coming activities planned for the centennial year. The current project calls for participating in the Drill Team Contest in March.

A contribution, approved by members, was sent to the March of Dims.

The concluding social period provided an opportunity for informal planning of the grange's 100th anniversary observance.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler and Donald Strous.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Jan. 12, the 12th day of 1967. There are 353 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date 1933, Hattie W. Caraway, Democrat of Jonesboro, Ark., became the first woman elected to the U.S. Senate.

On this date:

In 1737, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, John Hancock, was born.

In 1918, 30 vessels on the Great Lakes were taken over by the Shipping Board for the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson called the first meeting of the League of Nations for Jan. 16.

In 1945, the Nazis were fleeing in retreat from the shattered Belgian Bulge.

Ten years ago — Severe drought conditions continued to plague Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Kansas. Some two million acres of farm and ranch land were affected.

One year ago — President Johnson, in his State of the Union message to Congress, pledged to stay in Vietnam "until aggression has stopped." At the same time, however, Johnson promised to continue and to expand his Great Society program at home.

Local Man Fined $75 For Assault, Battery

A local resident was handed a $75 fine on assault and battery charges filed by his wife.

Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb suspended the fine against Jack Noel, Route 3, and placed him on probation for six months. A condition of the probation is that he is not to violate the section of the Ohio Revised Code under which he was charged.

Noel pleaded no contest to the charge filed by Jean Noel.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war in Vietnam, now one of the greatest guessing games in the 20th century, hangs like a fog over Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency and his future.

No one knows it better than Johnson. This seems clear from both the tone and the nature of the State of the Union message he delivered to Congress this week.

He took over the presidency like a fireball, setting Congress ablaze with his program and his gusto in his first two full White House years, 1964 and 1965.

In the beginning Vietnam still seemed a little remote. While the United States was helping the South fight off the Communist attacks from the North, its role there was less than all-out.

But always Vietnam was a kind of open wound. It began to fester as the resistance of the South weakened and the chances of a Communist takeover increased. Gradually Johnson put the United States fully into the war.

He has talked much about it, often with explanations which sounded noble and unselfish, like preserving the right of a people, such as the South Vietnamese, to preserve their independence and choose their own way of government.

But along with these fine phrases he has consistently given another explanation which was not unselfish: that the United States fears, if the Communists can swallow South Vietnam, in time they will swallow all Southeast Asia.

And that, the Johnson administration feels, as did the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations before it, is something the country can't sit idly by and permit since, in the long run, American interests would be endangered.

As Johnson put this country deeper into the fighting, criticism of him at home increased, along with the expense of fighting the war.

School Employees Strike Averted

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A strike of custodian and cafeteria employees of the Hamilton School System, scheduled for today, appeared averted after the board of education said it would hold a bargaining election next Monday.

James A. Levensky, representing State, County and Municipal Employees Union (AFL-CIO) said approximately 200 employees were affected. The workers had asked the board of education to recognize the union as their bargaining agent. The board countered with the offer of a "free and binding" election. It was accepted.

A strike would have affected 28 city schools housing 12,000 pupils, Supt. Lester Dick ey said.

America's third President, Thomas Jefferson, had a sure-fire cure for indigestion — a few miles' ride on a spirited horse.

By James Marlow

initely, his future may be dim, his chances of re-election ruined and his place in history spoiled. An acute awareness of all this appeared to dominate his State of the Union message.

Although full of vitality, it was subdued, as if Johnson wished to avoid new antagonisms. For instance, there was nothing inflammatory about what he said on civil rights. And what he did say was vague.

It was the war which dominated the speech although he crowded mention of it into the tail-end of what he said. His call for a tax boost, to help pay for the war, affects most Americans and brought him some new criticism.

And, for a man who wishes as strongly as Johnson for presidential success, it must have been a bitter acknowledgement when he informed Congress and the country he didn't know how

Justice Triumphant In State of Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Bob Bass says he will introduce a bill in the Texas Legislature giving a wife the right to shoot her husband's paramours if caught in adultery.

Husbands in Texas have the right to shoot in a comparable situation.

"The women wanted to repeal the paramour law altogether, but I want to leave a man the right to protect his home," Bass said.

"This just gives them equal shooting rights, that's all."

long the war would last. Nevertheless, he said this country would see it through.

Yet, a talk made that same day by U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, showed how far apart the two basic views of the war are and how, as a result, the arguments for and against the war are a giant guessing game.

Thant disagreed with the Johnson position that South

Vietnam's freedom from communism is vital to American interests. In short, both sides are guessing, since neither can positively predict the future.

Johnson is basing his belief, and therefore the American position, on the past performance of communism. This is a grim view, but realistic. Those who share Thant's view are the optimists of the world, hoping for the best.

Top Hit 'Zhivago' Score Done by Amazing Frenchman

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Composer Maurice Jarre met another deadline last month, as is his custom.

The amazing Frenchman recorded the final cadenza for the MGM auto racing spectacle, "Grand Prix," a few days before the film received its premiere in Hollywood.

"This has been a crazy year," he sighed. "I have written five complete scores — 'Gambit,' 'The Professionals,' 'Is Paris Burning?' 'Night of the Generals' and 'Grand Prix.' I also composed a long ballet on 'The Hunchback of Notre Dame' for the Paris Opera.

"Now I think I would like to rest for six months. The only trouble is that after a week's rest, I am anxious to get back to work."

On the basis of one score alone, Jarre doesn't need to work for a long time. His compositions for "Doctor Zhivago" have become the all-time top seller for the score of a dramatic film, dominating album sales all year with a million copies sold. That, too, was a hurry up job.

Jarre has come a long way for a lad who never played an instrument until he was 16. Young Maurice listened to his sister's piano lessons in their Paris home and decided he would seek a career in music rather than engineering. Realizing he had needed to start earlier to become a piano virtuoso, he studied percussion instruments.

"I want to be a conductor," he announced, and he became one at 20. The background for his present work came during 12 years at the French National Theater, where he composed and conducted scores for 44 attractions.

Background music for "The Longest Day" was his first major film assignment.

Then came "Lawrence of Arabia" and "Doctor Zhivago."

A handsome, long-haired man with a face much younger than his 38 years, Jarre came here with his wife and child two years ago.

Russell Gets Promotion at LMP Plant

Malcolm Russell, 904 1/2 S. Court St., has been promoted to production control manager at Lincoln Molded Plastics, Inc.

MALCOLM RUSSELL

According to D. D. Hannahs, plant manager.

Russell joined Lincoln in February of 1960 as a production department clerk. He later was advanced to scheduler.

Prior to joining the plastics firm, Russell was engaged in farming. He had industrial traffic experience with Anchor Hocking Glass Co., and with John W. Eshelman and Sons.

The new production control manager has been a resident of Circleville for 35 years. He is an active member of the United Church of Christ in Stoutsville.

He has three daughters, Mary Sue of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Jo Ann of the U. S. Air Force at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J.; and Jane, at home.

tion, according to Robert M. Johnson, president of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Telephone Manners at All Time Low

DEAR ABBY: My husband, Ralph, is the world's biggest tease but he doesn't know when enough is enough.

He sounds exactly like Buddy, our 19-year-old son, on the telephone. Even I can't tell the difference. When Buddy's friends call here for Buddy and Ralph answers the phone, he has the time of his life until the kids find out who they're talking to. Ralph thinks it's a big joke, but Buddy gets angry when he finds out his father has led some of his girl friends on until they tell him lots of stuff they shouldn't have.

Is there some way we can put a stop to my husband's childishness? It has gone beyond a joke.

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: Suggest that Buddy and his friends make up some password or identifying phrase that only they know. For instance when one of Buddy's friends telephones, he could say, "I've got the yo yo." AND ONLY Buddy would know to reply, "I've got the string."

DEAR ABBY: "B" and I have been going steady for two years and intend to marry as soon as my divorce becomes final. We are both in our thirties. The problem's "B" doesn't think he should give me a ring because I'm not divorced yet, only going thru the process.

I don't agree with his reasoning. His family knows all about us and so does mine. I think it would look a lot better if I had a ring — that way when my divorce becomes final I can say we had been engaged a few months before I married him. Thank you.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: You ARE confused. It is highly improper to become officially engaged until one is entirely free from prior legal commitments. You don't have to "say" anything.

If you and "B" have been "going steady" for two years, it's no secret. And under the circumstances, I doubt if anyone cares if you were engaged for a few months or a few minutes.

DEAR ABBY: You probably won't believe this, but I know a woman who is only 44 years old and she is already on her ninth husband! None of her husbands died. She divorced them all. She has never had any children, she's not rich, she's not a run-around and she's not much to look at, but no sooner is she divorced from one husband than another man wants to marry her.

She's not crazy, either. She has a good job in an insurance office. No one can figure her out. I would like your opinion of a woman who has been in and out of divorce courts eight times and professes to be a God-fearing, law-abiding citizen. NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: I would be only jumping to conclusions — as you are. So no comment.

DEAR ABBY: In answering someone who wanted to know if "clothes" made the woman, you said (quoting your friend Edith Head), "All women look alike in the bath tub." To that I say, "O, boy, have I got news for you!"

Don't Even Attempt To Figure This Out

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—After a fire caused $400 damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andres Avila, firemen said they found a jar full of money hidden beneath the eaves of the house.

Avila, 73, said there was $1,500 in the jar but added he didn't know how it got there. He said it would be enough to repair the fire damage and pay the income taxes on the windfall.

Supermarket Fun and Games Out?

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you haven't caught pictures of football players Dick Butkus and Gary Collins, the right side of a $1,000 Sunny Dollar bill or a Play Safe stop sign, you can throw away all those matching pieces you have been saving.

The $1,000 games that people have been playing in the nation's gas stations and supermarkets apparently are on the way out. They have been threatened by a Federal Trade Commission investigation, legislative hearings, court suits, picketing housewives, disgruntled dealers and too much competition.

"I believe games have run their course," said a spokesman for Mobil Co., which salted away a million dollars to pay off motorists who could match three of its traffic signs.

Lucky winners could lug home $1 to $1,000 by lining up traffic signs or a row of pro football players, or getting the missing half of a play money $1,000 bill.

Supermarkets alone spent $216 million on promotional games in 1966, estimates Henry Reichman of Sales Builders Inc., which developed some of them.

But Safeway Stores Inc., the nation's second largest supermarket chain, bows out of the game business this month. So have grocery stores in Kansas City and some other areas.

Strategic Merchandising Corp., of New York, which developed Safeway's Bonus Bingo, is reluctant to talk about cancellations.

Supermarket Fun and Games Out?

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you haven't caught pictures of football players Dick Butkus and Gary Collins, the right side of a $1,000 Sunny Dollar bill or a Play Safe stop sign, you can throw away all those matching pieces you have been saving.

The $1,000 games that people have been playing in the nation's gas stations and supermarkets apparently are on the way out. They have been threatened by a Federal Trade Commission investigation, legislative hearings, court suits, picketing housewives, disgruntled dealers and too much competition.

"I believe games have run their course," said a spokesman for Mobil Co., which salted away a million dollars to pay off motorists who could match three of its traffic signs.

Lucky winners could lug home $1 to $1,000 by lining up traffic signs or a row of pro football players, or getting the missing half of a play money $1,000 bill.

Supermarkets alone spent $216 million on promotional games in 1966, estimates Henry Reichman of Sales Builders Inc., which developed some of them.

But Safeway Stores Inc., the nation's second largest supermarket chain, bows out of the game business this month. So have grocery stores in Kansas City and some other areas.

Strategic Merchandising Corp., of New York, which developed Safeway's Bonus Bingo, is reluctant to talk about cancellations.

Dayton Star Gets Raw Deal From Officials, Coach Says

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Don May, the team's star, has been getting a raw deal from officials, accuses University of Dayton basketball coach Don Donohue.

The usually mild-mannered Donohue spoke out bitterly after studying movies of Dayton's 62-49 loss here to Cincinnati Tuesday night, charging that opposing teams are roughing up his junior ace at the same time their coaches are complaining to officials about May's aggressive play.

"As far as I'm concerned, Don is taking too much abuse both ways for me to keep quiet," Donohue told Sports Editor Ritter Collett of the Dayton Journal Herald.

The Dayton coach's blast came in the wake of the Flyers' second loss in 13 games, one in which May fouled out with 8:56 to play. He had scored only 11 points, half his average.

"I'm sick about what I see on those films," Donohue told Collett.

Wilmington Grid Coach Resigns

Dean Waddell Led Hurricane to 44-14-2 Record

Paul Dean (Okie) Waddell, Wilmington High School football coach for the past six years, has resigned.

The dean of South Central Ohio League gridiron mentors, his resignation was accepted last night by the Wilmington Board of Education.

Waddell told the board he wished to devote more time to his family and his education. He will continue to serve as athletic director and social studies teacher.

During his six years as head coach at Wilmington, his teams have compiled a winning record of 44-14-2. In the South Central Ohio League, he has lost only five in 36 games.

HE GAINED his first league title in 1963 when he shared it with Circleville. Both teams had 6-1 loop records.

In 1964 and 1965 the Hurricane was directed to perfect winning season in the league. In 1966, Wilmington was second to Circleville. Wilmington was also runnerup in 1961 and 1962.

Waddell is a graduate of Good Hope High School, one of the Fayette County Districts that was consolidated into Zane Trace.

Waddell attended Wilmington College. He is a veteran of the United States Marines.

His coaching career started at Sabina, where he was head baseball mentor. Before moving to the head grid post at Wilmington, he was a line coach under Paul Orr at Greenfield McClain High School.

The Wilmington Board of Education has not yet named a replacement for Waddell.

Tigers To Tangle With SCO Loop's Tightest Defense

The South Central Ohio League's leading defensive basketball team plays Circleville Friday in the local Mill Street gymnasium.

The Wilmington Hurricane, second in the league standings with a 4-1 record, will be starting the second round of league action with the Tigers.

In the first meeting between the two teams, Wilmington won, 57-36, holding Tim Stonerock to 16 points.

The Hurricane defense was equally effective against the remainder of the Tigers as Dan Speakman was shut off with two points, Jeff Steele and Mike Martindill scored six each, Dave Horst had four and Joe Winner two.

WILMINGTON is limiting opposing teams to an average of 49.8 points per game, while zipping 61.8 points per tilt through the nets.

The only league loss for Wilmington this year has been to Miami Trace by a score of 55-51. The game was played on the MT Panthers floor.

Last week, Wilmington edged Greenfield by one point in a double overtime played on the tiny McClain floor.

Although currently in second place in the South Central Ohio League, Wilmington has the advantage of meeting Greenfield and Miami Trace in the Hurricane balliwick in the second round.

In addition, Trace is faced with the prospect of playing at Greenfield.

Wilmington has three of the SCO's top scorers in Roger Vaughan, Tim Rudduck and John Petty.

VAUGHAN, a 6-0 forward, is averaging 17.4 points per game. He actually has scored more field goals this season than Circleville's Tim Stonerock, but has had fewer chances at the foul line.

Of Stonerock's 238 points, 76 have been at the charity stripe and 162 from the field. Vaughan has scored 168 points from the field, but only 24 from the foul line.

John Petty has a 13.5 average for the Hurricane. Tim Rudduck, who leads the team in assists, has a 12.2 average.

Wilmington allowed the Tigers to score 10 points the first quarter and 16 the fourth when they met on the Hurricane floor.

But in the second and third periods, the Tigers were limited to a total of 10. Stonerock, who had gotten in early foul trouble, sat out much of those two periods.

The league's leading scorer, Stonerock is averaging 23.8 points per game overall and 23.0 points per game in the league.

DAN SPEAKMAN has an 11 point average for the Tigers in all games and a 10.4 average in the league. E'tting the nets at a 50 per cent plus clip, he is the most accurate shooter on the team.

Other starters include Joe Winner, who has scored 52 points this season, Danny Gibbs with 45 and Jeff Steele with 85. Mike Martindill and Rick Congrove are the two first line substitutes for CHS.

In other league games Friday, Greenfield is at Washington C. H. and Miami Trace is at Hillsboro. Saturday, Wilmington hosts Springfield North, Chillicothe travels to Washington C. H., London plays at Miami Trace and Hillsboro is on the road at Blanchester.

Tiger Frosh Matmen Lose To Hamilton

The Circleville freshman wrestling team lost to Hamilton Twp., 32-28, in spite of the fact they won seven of 11 contested matches.

Tigers had to give up 14 points by forfeits because they had no contenders in four weight classes.

Of the seven wins, four were by pins, two by decisions and one by default.

Bryce Griffey was decisioned 9-4 in the 90-pound class.

IN THE 97-pound class, Alan Kreiger won his first match by pinning his foe. David Winks lost by a pin, but Don Coates needed only 22 seconds to pin his opponent.

Desi Gentzel outpointed his man, 14-3 and Don Conkel continued undefeated by pinning his foe in the first period. In the 133-pound class, John Myers was pinned. Craig Dresbach outpointed his man, 15-2, to remain undefeated in the 138-pound class.

Denny Adkins, wrestling up two weight classes, was pinned. Bill Seum pinned his man in the first period of the 175-pound class. Bruce Liston won by default to remain the third undefeated wrestler on the freshman squad.

The next freshman match is at home against Brookpark Jan. 25.

Accord Near on Academic Rule

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said today he felt the NCAA and eastern objectors to the 1.6 minimum academic rule could reach an understanding.

The large collegiate body rebuffed Eastern college efforts Wednesday to eliminate the one-year-old rule which requires a student-athlete to maintain at least a 1.6 minimum on a 4.0 grading scale to be eligible for athletic participation. A 1.6 is the equivalent to a D-plus average.

Dr. Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan said after his election as president of the 582-member organization that the NCAA is strong internally and with "no deep fissures."

"We are not without our problems," he said. "We never have been and we never will be."

Although the Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprising 146 NCAA members, got late convention support from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference, it was unsuccessful in securing approval of any of six amendments designed to alter the present 1.6 regulation.

The objecting schools contend the rule violates institutional autonomy and is not applicable in their case because they do not have student-athletes.

John Wilkin of Colby College, in presenting the ECAC case, said the academic rule "tries to equate factors that are not equatable." At the request of a delegate to have a public statement on how the NCAA Council stood on the 1.6 issue, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate University, retiring NCAA president, said it was for retention of the present rule.

"The general conviction on the part of the majority is to give the 1.6 rule a chance to function another year," Plant said. He added that coming from the Big Ten Conference, which has a higher minimum standard, he favors it.

The 1968 convention will be in New York City Jan. 8-10.

Walter J. Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said 520 of the organization's 582 members are in conformity with the 1.6 rule.

He said 11 institutions indicated no intention of complying, including only three members of the eight-school Ivy League—Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Byers identified the other eight institutions as Williams, Thiel, Tufts, Swarthmore, Rochester, Oberlin, Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

"There is no stigma on a team for non-compliance with NCAA regulations," Byers said. It means only they cannot compete in an NCAA championship event or postseason bowl game sanctioned by the collegiate body.

In other action at the closing session of the 61st convention, the delegates:

Rejected a proposal to permit freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

Approved exempting benefits under the GI Bill of Rights from grants-in-aid to student-athletes.

Voted down a move to limit scholarships to one or two years, with renewals. Grants-in-aid now may be given for four years.

Tabled a motion to extend the period of preseason football practice.

Penn State will face Army and Navy on its 1968 football schedule.

Swim Team Slates Winter Meeting

All members of the Circleville Swim Team and boys or girls age 10 through 17 who desire to join the local swim club are asked to attend a meeting 1:30 p. m. Sunday in the Municipal Court Room on the second floor of the city building.

"Several important issues must be decided," swim coach Jim Shea, said. "We plan to start winter practices on January 21. Practice sessions will be held each Saturday until June 1."

Wilmington allowed the Tigers to score 10 points the first quarter and 16 the fourth when they met on the Hurricane floor.

But in the second and third periods, the Tigers were limited to a total of 10. Stonerock, who had gotten in early foul trouble, sat out much of those two periods.

The league's leading scorer, Stonerock is averaging 23.8 points per game overall and 23.0 points per game in the league.

DAN SPEAKMAN has an 11 point average for the Tigers in all games and a 10.4 average in the league. Itting the nets at a 50 per cent plus clip, he is the most accurate shooter on the team.

Other starters include Joe Winner, who has scored 52 points this season, Danny Gibbs with 45 and Jeff Steele with 85.

Mike Martindill and Rick Congrove are the two first line substitutes for CHS.

In other league games Friday, Greenfield is at Washington C. H. and Miami Trace is at Hillsboro. Saturday, Wilmington hosts Springfield North, Chillicothe travels to Washington C. H., London plays at Miami Trace and Hillsboro is on the road at Blanchester.

Tiger Frosh Matmen Lose To Hamilton

The Circleville freshman wrestling team lost to Hamilton Twp., 32-28, in spite of the fact they won seven of 11 contested matches.

Tigers had to give up 14 points by forfeits because they had no contenders in four weight classes.

Of the seven wins, four were by pins, two by decisions and one by default.

Bryce Griffey was decisioned 9-4 in the 90-pound class.

IN THE 97-pound class, Alan Kreiger won his first match by pinning his foe. David Winks lost by a pin, but Don Coates needed only 22 seconds to pin his opponent.

Desi Gentzel outpointed his man, 14-3 and Don Conkel continued undefeated by pinning his foe in the first period. In the 133-pound class, John Myers was pinned. Craig Dresbach outpointed his man, 15-2, to remain undefeated in the 138-pound class.

Denny Adkins, wrestling up two weight classes, was pinned. Bill Seum pinned his man in the first period of the 175-pound class. Bruce Liston won by default to remain the third undefeated wrestler on the freshman squad.

The next freshman match is at home against Brookpark Jan. 25.

Accord Near on Academic Rule

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said today he felt the NCAA and eastern objectors to the 1.6 minimum academic rule could reach an understanding.

The large collegiate body rebuffed Eastern college efforts Wednesday to eliminate the one-year-old rule which requires a student-athlete to maintain at least a 1.6 minimum on a 4.0 grading scale to be eligible for athletic participation. A 1.6 is the equivalent to a D-plus average.

Dr. Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan said after his election as president of the 582-member organization that the NCAA is strong internally and with "no deep fissures."

"We are not without our problems," he said. "We never have been and we never will be."

Although the Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprising 146 NCAA members, got late convention support from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference, it was unsuccessful in securing approval of any of six amendments designed to alter the present 1.6 regulation.

The objecting schools contend the rule violates institutional autonomy and is not applicable in their case because they do not have student-athletes.

John Wilkin of Colby College, in presenting the ECAC case, said the academic rule "tries to equate factors that are not equatable." At the request of a delegate to have a public statement on how the NCAA Council stood on the 1.6 issue, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate University, retiring NCAA president, said it was for retention of the present rule.

"The general conviction on the part of the majority is to give the 1.6 rule a chance to function another year," Plant said. He added that coming from the Big Ten Conference, which has a higher minimum standard, he favors it.

The 1968 convention will be in New York City Jan. 8-10.

Walter J. Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said 520 of the organization's 582 members are in conformity with the 1.6 rule.

He said 11 institutions indicated no intention of complying, including only three members of the eight-school Ivy League—Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Byers identified the other eight institutions as Williams, Thiel, Tufts, Swarthmore, Rochester, Oberlin, Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

"There is no stigma on a team for non-compliance with NCAA regulations," Byers said. It means only they cannot compete in an NCAA championship event or postseason bowl game sanctioned by the collegiate body.

In other action at the closing session of the 61st convention, the delegates:

Rejected a proposal to permit freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

Approved exempting benefits under the GI Bill of Rights from grants-in-aid to student-athletes.

Voted down a move to limit scholarships to one or two years, with renewals. Grants-in-aid now may be given for four years.

Tabled a motion to extend the period of preseason football practice.

Penn State will face Army and Navy on its 1968 football schedule.

Swim Team Slates Winter Meeting

All members of the Circleville Swim Team and boys or girls age 10 through 17 who desire to join the local swim club are asked to attend a meeting 1:30 p. m. Sunday in the Municipal Court Room on the second floor of the city building.

"Several important issues must be decided," swim coach Jim Shea, said. "We plan to start winter practices on January 21. Practice sessions will be held each Saturday until June 1."

Clean, flameless electric dryers cost less to maintain.

Go flameless...put on a happy face!

Most people already know that electric dryers cost less to buy and install. But did you know that an electric dryer continues to save you money year after year? That's a fact. Take maintenance, for instance. Flameless electric dryers have approximately 15 fewer working parts to break down or wear out. This means fewer service calls and longer life for your electric dryer. Another thing, electricity is 100% efficient. And your flameless electric dryer uses only clean, flameless electricity for energy. It's easy to see why every day, more and more people give more reasons for going electric.

Dawson Analyzes Packers' Defense

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson took apart the Green Bay defense today without throwing a pass—and found that in Sunday's Super Bowl game he'll be firing against the equivalent of Boston's front four, Buffalo linebackers and Oakland's secondary.

Ticking off attributes and personality of Green Bay's defensive forces, Dawson drew a comparison with the units of three American Football League teams.

"The Packers front four are extremely quick, like Boston's," Dawson said, "and like Boston they're a veteran group which plays extremely well together."

"The Green Bay linebackers are like Buffalo's," Dawson

went on, "big, strong, fast, and they tackle very well. The ball carrier doesn't fake them out. They're tough, they hit, they jam the tight end."

That comparison set Green Bay's linebackers—245-pound Dave Robinson, 240-pound Ray Nitschke and 250-pound Lee Roy Caffey against the Bills' trio of 240-pound Mike Stratton, 225-pound Harry Jacobs and 225-pound John Tracey.

"The Green Bay defensive backs are most like Oakland's," Dawson said as he completed his breakdown. "They're real solid at the corners and they all react very well."

Green Bay's cornerbacks are Herb Adderley and Bob Jeter, Oakland's Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson. The Packers safeties are Willie Wood and Tom Brown, the Raiders' Roger Bird and Warren Powers.

Having completed his breakdown of the Green Bay defense into the three components, Dawson then put it back together again and said:

"There's no doubt they're going to present a problem. They pressure you extremely well, and like Boston they have a lot of second effort. If you knock them down, you've got to lay on them—or they'll get back into the play.

"But," Dawson added, "that doesn't mean they present a problem we can't overcome."

"We have the tools. The reason why we have been successful is that we haven't had to rely on one guy. If they double on Otis Taylor, we'll go somewhere else. If they stop Mike Garrett, we'll go to Curt McClinton, or Chris Burford or Fred Arbanas.

"If they go somewhere to stop something—they've got to be vulnerable somewhere else."

"That's my job — finding where."

Unknown to 'Celebrity' Is Tom Brown's Story

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Tom Brown was the great unknown in Green Bay's defensive backfield until he intercepted that pass by Don Meredith in Dallas on New Year's Day. When he picked off that toss with 28 seconds to go he became a celebrity.

Brown, the left safety in the Packers' solid line of defense, would just as soon forget the interception that saved the day for the Packers in their National Football League title game with the Cowboys.

"The interception wouldn't have meant a thing if I hadn't made two mistakes earlier," said the former Maryland star.

"I fell down on the long touchdown pass to Frank Clarke and then grabbed Clarke in the end zone for the interference call that gave them a chance. I had a lot to make up for."

In case you have forgotten, the TD pass to Clarke closed the gap to 34-27 and the interference call gave Dallas a first down on the two with 1:52 to go. Until the interception, Brown had been known primarily as the fellow who received a five figure bonus to play pro baseball with the Washington Senators and then chucked a baseball career after 1½ years to play pro football with the Packers.

The Packers tried Brown as a flanker on offense. He had played with Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns at Maryland. But he dropped passes and floundered, so the brass moved Tommy to defense.

It was when the Packers needed a strong safety, a husky defender able to wrestle with the sturdy tight ends, that Brown moved to the position he now holds.

Brown's main consideration in Sunday's Super Bowl game for the big money will be Kansas City's tight end, Fred Arbanas. The American Football League champs like to throw to the 6-foot-3, 240-pound Arbanas in a pinch.

"Arbanas reminds me of Mike Ditka of the Chicago Bears in the films we have seen," said Brown. "He is just as big as Ditka and blocks as well. In fact, they have excellent receivers as good as many National Football League teams and better than some."

30,000 Seats Available for Super Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kansas City and Green Bay will both show up for Sunday's Super Bowl game, but the anticipated sellout crowd probably will not. "I thought we would have a sellout and we might still have it," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday. "But it would be hard to get a sellout at this point."

Rozelle said that some 55,000 to 60,000 seats have been sold for the game, leaving more than 30,000 seats to go in order to fill the 93,000-seat Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rozelle pointed to the blackout backlash — the game will not be televised in the Los Angeles area and a suit was brought to force the lifting of the blackout — and the price scale of $6, $10 and $12 as two of the factors cutting into the sale of tickets.

Rozelle also revealed that the Super Bowl winner would meet the College All-Stars in Chicago in August and announced record attendance figures for both the NFL and AFL.

NFL attendance rose to 5,337,138 compared to 4,624,021 in 1965 while AFL attendance climbed from 1,782,384 to 2,160,369.

Tom Wolter hit for 33 as Marietta built its record to 7-2. Ashland improved its nation's-best defensive average by checking West Virginia State at nearly 50 points under the Yellow Jacket average. Steubenville dropped its third game in 12 when Gannon slipped a head late and cinched with a run of foul conversions off a successful freeze. Cleveland State outscored Walsh 11-10 the first half, 13-12 the second.

Giants Sign Perry
For Reputed $40,000
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-hander Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 performer with the San Francisco Giants in 1966 with his best season, has signed a 1967 contract at an estimated $40,000.

Perry, the first pitcher to win 20 games last season, earned a raise of about $10,000. The Giants boosted his pay last season when he posted his 20th victory Aug. 20.

Southern Illinois Upsets Louisville

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern Illinois is not considered a major college basketball power. Convince Texas Western and Louisville.

The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., 59-54 conquerors of Texas Western, the defending major college champion, upended previously unbeaten Louisville 53-50 Wednesday night.

Southern Illinois has a higher national ranking than either Texas Western or Louisville, but there is a difference — the Salukis top The Associated Press small college rankings while Louisville is No. 2 and Texas Western sixth among the major schools.

As for rankings, Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Well, they do put the score on it, and because Walt Frazier made five foul shots in the last 66 seconds, Wednesday night it was the right kind of score for the eighth time in 10 games this season for the Salukis. Their only losses have been to Southern Methodist 66-64 and to Louisville 70-66 in overtime.

The only other member of the major college Top Ten to see action Wednesday night was North Carolina, and the Tar Heels came from eight points behind in the second half to nip North Carolina State 79-78 for their 12th victory in 13 games.

Bob Lewis led North Carolina with 25 points, and Rusty Clark and Larry Miller chipped in with 20 and 16, respectively.

Sandy Koufax Wins 1966 Hutch Award

Hutch Award

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers pitching great Sandy Koufax, who announced his retirement from baseball last November is the winner of the 1966 Hutch Award.

The award is given by major league baseball writers and broadcasters in memory of the late Fred Hutchinson, major league pitcher and manager of the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

The Hutch Award goes to the major leaguer who "best exemplifies the fighting spirit and burning desire of the late Fred Hutchinson."

Koufax will receive the trophy at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of Baseball Writers of America on Jan. 29 in New York.

Yankee outfielder Mickey Mantle, who was the first recipient of the Hutch Award a year ago, will make the presentation.

Koufax led the voting with Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Vernon Law second followed by second baseman Pete Rose of Cincinnati and Dodger shortstop Maury Wills.

Announcement of the award was made by Ritter Collett, sports editor of the Dayton Journal Herald, who is secretary-treasurer of the sponsoring Fred Hutchinson Cancer Scholarship Fund Inc.

Mickey Rosborough, 6-foot-2 senior from Donora, Pa., set a three-year Pitt pass catching record with 78 receptions for 826 yards.

Ohio U. Edges Marshall In Hill Country Feuding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A McClintick has fired the latest telling shot in what is fast becoming a real Martin-McCoy feud in Mid-American Conference basketball's hill country ramparts.

Ohio University, still fuming over a 70-68 loss to Marshall in Huntington, W. Va., last month when a last-gasp tying basket was ruled no good, beat the buzzer in Athens Wednesday night, 94-93.

MARTIN—er, Marshall—held a one-point lead with three seconds to play when Ohio's Gerry McCoy—er, McKee—drew two free throws. McKee missed both but teammate Mark McClintick recovered the ball from a scramble and meshed it, turning defeat into victory.

The wild finish rivaled the one in Huntington where the Bobcats contended the final horn the officials heard ahead of John Schroeder's dunk shot had been sounded by somebody in the stands.

Marshall since has banned fans from bringing in horns and whistles.

In other Ohio college play Wednesday, Findlay smeared Malone 124-70. Cleveland State overcame a Walsh stall for a 94-22 edge. Muskingum beat Mount Union 77-62 in the Ohio Conference. Bluffton nipped winless Heidelberg in overtime 85-82. Marietta downed California (Pa.) 86-78. Ashland topped West Virginia State 54-37, and Steubenville bowed to Gannon 67-61.

Ohio U.'s first Mid-Am success in three tries came chiefly on the top effort of Fred Cluff's college career. The Hillshoro junior bagged 32 points and snagged 23 rebounds. Marshall battled from a 65-49 deficit into that short-lived 93-92 lead as Dan D'Antoni caged 28 Heard makers.

Marshall is now 1-2 in the

"The Green Bay linebackers are like Buffalo's," Dawson

went on, "big, strong, fast, and they tackle very well. The ball carrier doesn't fake them out. They're tough, they hit, they jam the tight end."

That comparison set Green Bay's linebackers—245 - pound Dave Robinson, 240-pound Ray Nitschke and 250-pound Lee Roy Caffey against the Bills' trio of 240-pound Mike Stratton, 225-pound Harry Jacobs and 225 - pound John Tracey.

"The Green Bay defensive backs are most like Oakland's," Dawson said as he completed his breakdown. "They're real solid at the corners and they all react very well."

Green Bay's cornerbacks are Herb Adderley and Bob Jeter, Oakland's Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson. The Packer safeties are Willie Wood and Tom Brown, the Raiders' Rodger Bird and Warren Powers. Having completed his breakdown of the Green Bay defense into the three components, Dawson then put it back together again and said:

"There's no doubt they're going to present a problem. They pressure you extremely well, and like Boston they have a lot of second effort. If you knock them down, you've got to lay on them—or they'll get back into the play.

"But," Dawson added, "that doesn't mean they present a problem we can't overcome."

"We have the tools. The reason why we have been successful is that we haven't had to rely on one guy. If they double on Otis Taylor, we'll go somewhere else. If they stop Mike Garrett, we'll go to Curt McClintock, or Chris Burford or Fred Arbanas.

"If they go somewhere to stop something—they've got to be vulnerable somewhere else."

"That's my job — finding where."

Unknown to 'Celebrity' Is Tom Brown's Story

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Tom Brown was the great unknown in Green Bay's defensive backfield until he intercepted that pass by Don Meredith in Dallas on New Year's Day. When he picked off that toss with 28 seconds to go he became a celebrity.

Brown, the left safety in the Packer's solid line of defense, would just as soon forget the interception that saved the day for the Packers in their National Football League title game with the Cowboys.

"The interception wouldn't have meant a thing if I hadn't made two mistakes earlier," said the former Maryland star.

"I fell down on the long touchdown pass to Frank Clarke and then grabbed Clarke in the end zone for the interference call that gave them a chance. I had a lot to make up for."

In case you have forgotten, the TD pass to Clarke closed the gap to 34-27 and the interference call gave Dallas a first down on the two with 1:52 to go.

Until the interception, Brown had been known primarily as the fellow who received a five figure bonus to play pro baseball with the Washington Senators and then chucked a baseball career after 1½ years to play pro football with the Packers.

The Packers tried Brown as a flanker on offense. He had played with Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns at Maryland. But he dropped passes and floundered, so the brass moved Tommy to defense.

It was when the Packers

needed a strong safety, a husky defender able to wrestle with the sturdy tight ends, that Brown moved to the position he now holds.

Brown's main consideration in Sunday's Super Bowl game for the big money will be Kansas City's tight end, Fred Arbanas. The American Football League champs like to throw to the 6-foot-3, 240-pound Arbanas in a pinch.

"Arbanas reminds me of Mike Ditka of the Chicago Bears in the films we have seen," said Brown. "He is just as big as Ditka and blocks as well. In fact, they have excellent receivers as good as many National Football League teams and better than some."

30,000 Seats Available for Super Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Kansas City and Green Bay will both show up for Sunday's Super Bowl game, but the anticipated sellout crowd probably will not. "I thought we would have a sellout and we might still have it," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday. "But it would be hard to get a sellout at this point."

Rozelle said that some 55,000 to 60,000 seats have been sold for the game, leaving more than 30,000 seats to go in order to fill the 93,000-seat Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rozelle pointed to the blackout backlash — the game will not be televised in the Los Angeles area and a suit was brought to force the lifting of the blackout—and the price scale of $6, $10 and $12 as two of the factors cutting into the sale of tickets.

Rozelle also revealed that the Super Bowl winner would meet the College All-Stars in Chicago in August and announced record attendance figures for both the NFL and AFL.

NFL attendance rose to 5,337,138 compared to 4,624,021 in 1965 while AFL attendance climbed from 1,732,384 to 2,160,369.

Southern Illinois Upsets Louisville

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern Illinois is not considered a major college basketball power. Convince Texas Western and Louisville.

The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., 59-54 conquerors of Texas Western, the defending major college champion, upended previously unbeaten Louisville 53-50 Wednesday night.

Southern Illinois has a higher national ranking than either Texas Western or Louisville, but there is a difference — the Salukis top The Associated Press small college rankings while Louisville is No. 2 and Texas Western sixth among the major schools.

As for rankings, Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Well, they do put the score on it, and because Walt Frazier made five foul shots in the last 66 seconds, Wednesday night it was the right kind of score for the eighth time in 10 games this season for the Salukis. Their only losses have been to Southern Methodist 66-64 and to Louisville 70-66 in overtime.

The only other member of the major college Top Ten to see action Wednesday night was North Carolina, and the Tar Heels came from eight points behind in the second half to nip North Carolina State 79-78 for their 12th victory in 13 games.

Bob Lewis led North Carolina with 25 points, and Rusty Clark and Larry Miller chipped in with 20 and 16, respectively.

Sandy Koufax Wins 1966 Hutch Award

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitching great Sandy Koufax, who announced his retirement from baseball last November is the winner of the 1966 Hutch Award.

The award is given by major league baseball writers and broadcasters in memory of the late Fred Hutchinson, major league pitcher and manager of the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

The Hutch Award goes to the major leaguer who "best exemplifies the fighting spirit and burning desire of the late Fred Hutchinson."

Koufax will receive the trophy at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of Baseball Writers of America on Jan. 29 in New York.

Yankee outfielder Mickey Mantle, who was the first recipient of the Hutch Award a year ago, will make the presentation.

Koufax led the voting with Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Vernon Law second followed by second baseman Pete Rose of Cincinnati and Dodger shortstop Maury Wills.

Announcement of the award was made by Ritter Collett, sports editor of the Dayton Journal Herald, who is secretary-treasurer of the sponsoring Fred Hutchinson Cancer Scholarship Fund Inc.

Ohio U. Edges Marshall In Hill Country Feuding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A McClintick has fired the latest telling shot in what is fast becoming a real Martin-and-McCoy feud in Mid-American Conference basketball's hill country ramparts.

Ohio University, still fuming over a 70-68 loss to Marshall in Huntington, W. Va., last month when a last-gasp tying basket was ruled no good, beat the buzzer in Athens Wednesday night, 94-93.

MARTIN—er, Marshall—held a one-point lead with three seconds to play when Ohio's Gerry McCoy—er, McKee—drew two free throws. McKee missed both but teammate Mark McClintick recovered the ball from a scramble and meshed it, turning defeat into victory.

The wild finish rivaled the one in Huntington where the Bobcats contended the final horn the officials heard ahead of John Schroeder's dunk shot had been sounded by somebody in the stands.

Marshall since has banned fans from bringing in horns and whistles.

In other Ohio college play Wednesday, Findlay smeared Malone 124-70. Cleveland State overcame a Walsh stall for a 24-22 edge, Muskegon beat Mount Union 77-61 in the Ohio Conference. Bluffton nipped winless Heidelberg in overtime 85-82. Marietta downed California (Pa.) 86-78. Ashland topped West Virginia State 54-37, and Steubenville bowed to Gannon 67-61.

Ohio U.'s first Mid-Am success in three tries came chiefly on the top effort of Fred Cluff's college career. The Hillsboro junior bagged 32 points and snagged 23 rebounds. Marshall battled from a 65-49 deficit into that short-lived 93-92 lead as Dan D'Antoni caged 28 Heat makers.

Marshall is now 1-2 in the

MAC. The Carder twins combined for 51 points—Jim 27, Jerry 24—in Findlay's spree. Harry Reynolds' 26 and Jim Battle's 21 paced Muskegon to its initial OC triumph. Bluffton's Denny Lane had 27, including key overtime baskets in the Beaver victory.

Tom Wolter hit for 33 as Marietta built its record to 7-2. Ashland improved its nation's-best fensive average by checking West Virginia State at nearly 50 points under the Yellow Jacket average. Steubenville dropped its third game in 12 when Gannon slipped ahead late and cinched with a run of foul conversions off a successful freeze.

Cleveland State outscored Walsh 11-10 in the first half, 13-12 the second.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither Sen. Robert F. Kennedy nor FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has accepted an informal invitation to testify before a Senate subcommittee probing eavesdropping.

The New York Democrat and Hoover were embroiled late last year in a dispute over who authorized what bugging by the FBI.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.,

Efforts Made In 'Organized' Vietnam War

Lodge figured that a few thousand "hard-core terrorists" command some 150,000 "rank and file terrorists" and that the hard core leaders are responsible for forcing young villagers into service with the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese units.

"If, therefore, we are successful at ferreting out and eliminating the hard-core terrorists and establishing the villagers' confidence in their government's ability to assure their security," he said, "impressment of young males would cease and the war would be pretty nearly over."

Here are some of the questions asked Lodge, along with his answers:

Q. What does the bombing of the North accomplish? Does it harm civilians more than the military?

A. The bombing of the North very severely harasses the Viet Cong line of communication whereby it supports its forces which are combatting aggression against South Vietnam. Were this bombing to stop, the Viet Cong would be more aggressive and this would result in killing and wounding many more American troops.

Some civilians are always killed in war. Regrettably some civilians are killed accidentally in North Vietnam. That is tragic. But I believe special mention should be made of civilians who are killed in South Vietnam, not by accident but by deliberate Viet Cong policy. This goes on week after week.

Q. Is there a "credibility gap" concerning administration statements on Vietnam and if so, who is to blame?

A. I think the statements of the United States government are believed by our adversaries. This is very important. The believability of American statements is a great force for peace and security of the American people.

Q. There have been periodic reports that you plan to resign soon. What are your personal plans?

A. These are inaccurate. I serve at the pleasure of the President as does every presidential appointee.

Q. What have been the results in terms of world peace of our activity in Vietnam?

A. Outside of Vietnam, that whole great area of islands and peninsulas known as East Asia is denied to the expansionism of Peking. To be sure, the current situation is dangerous because the world is dangerous, but if we had been pushed out of Vietnam or if we had abandoned Vietnam, the tide would have turned towards Peking and we would be facing a catastrophe of global dimensions.

Thant made his statement Tuesday in New York.

Supreme Court Must Rule on Crucial Juridical Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the end of the term the Supreme Court will decide a novel question of paramount importance to civil rights marchers and administrators of justice.

It is: May judges and policemen be sued for damages under an 1871 civil rights law?

If they are ruled immune from such suits, civil rights demonstrators will be barred from using the Reconstruction statute to sue for false arrest and conviction.

But if they are not immune, the door could swing wide open for such suits — a prospect which appeared to deeply concern at least three of the nine Supreme Court justices who heard arguments on the matter Wednesday.

The case at hand involves four Episcopal ministers, one of them a former son-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who were arrested in a Jackson, Miss., bus depot in September 1961.

The ministers were part of a racially mixed group of Episcopal clergymen on a civil rights "prayer pilgrimage" from New Orleans to Detroit. Three are white and the fourth Negro.

Their trip up the Mississippi Valley was cut short when they tried to eat in a coffee shop in the depot.

According to their attorney, Carl Rachlin of New York City, they entered the depot peacefully and were arrested to enforce segregation. The stanchion outside the depot, Rachlin said, read: "Whites only, by order of police."

But according to attorney Elizabeth Watkins Hulen Grayson of Jackson — representing the three arresting police officers and the local police justice, the ministers "broadcast the fact they came to be arrested." They attracted a crowd of 30 to 40 persons, Mrs. Grayson said, some of whom muttered, made violent gestures and "had angry expressions" on their face.

Local Police Justice James L. Spencer found the four — the Rev. Robert L. Pierson, then married to Rockefeller's daughter Ann, the Rev. John B. Morris, the Rev. James G. Jones Jr. and the Rev. James P. Breeden, a Negro, guilty of violating Mississippi's breach-of-peace law and sent them off to jail.

Later, Hinds County Court struck down Father Jones' conviction and officials decided not to press charges against the three others.

The clergymen then turned around and sued the three arresting officers and Spencer for damages under the 1871 civil rights law, seeking $11,000 each.

The law makes "every person" who acts "under color" of state law to deprive a citizen of his rights "liable to the party injured." Punishment under the law is up to 10 years in prison, $5,000 fine or both.

Back in 1951, the Supreme Court ruled 8 to 1 that the Reconstruction law was not intended to limit state legislators' immunity from arrests or suits based on their official actions.

Taking its cue from this decision, five federal circuit courts, including the Fifth in New Orleans in the ministers' case, have held state and local judges are similarly immune.

Now the high court will have to say if that was its intention in 1951.
